Welcome

Welcome to AP World History. I'm excited to meet all of you and walk with you through your first Advanced Placement class. This will likely be one of the greatest academic challenges you've had in your career as a student thus far, but with commitment, discipline, hard work, and focus you will find it to be a rewarding experience. I'm here to teach you, cheer you on, and encourage you along the way. Looking forward to getting started!

Contact Information

I will be using texts regularly to send class news, reminders, and links. This will be one of the primary ways that class information will be communicated. Students should join immediately and parents are welcome to join as well. Text to 81010 and enter @apwhfong23 as the message. Also, download the free Remind app on your phone/device if you're able to.

Also, students should join the summer Google Classroom page by using code bxujaaz I will be checking email all summer and you can contact me if you have any questions.

Textbook Information

We will be using Traditions and Encounters, 5th Edition by Bentley and Ziegler, and you will check that out when you return in the fall.

Materials

The only materials you will need beside the regular classroom supplies (paper, pencils/pens, notebook/binder) are highlighters in yellow, green, and pink.

APWH Review Book

Strongly recommended, but not required, is the AP World History review book by AMSCO Perfection Learning. This is a REALLY helpful book that is written by experienced AP World History teachers. It helps students review and prepare for the AP test with summaries, timelines, practice tests, test-taking strategies, and more. It's entitled Advanced Placement World History: Modern. Visit tinyurl.com/apwhreviewbook2021 to order. It's $21.95 (plus shipping) for the softcover book, though there is an e-book and a bundle available too.

This Summer

On the second Friday of the school year, you will be having a test on the two maps in this packet. You may want to study those in the summer so you aren't cramming the first couple weeks of school.

Test on both maps on Friday, August 26th

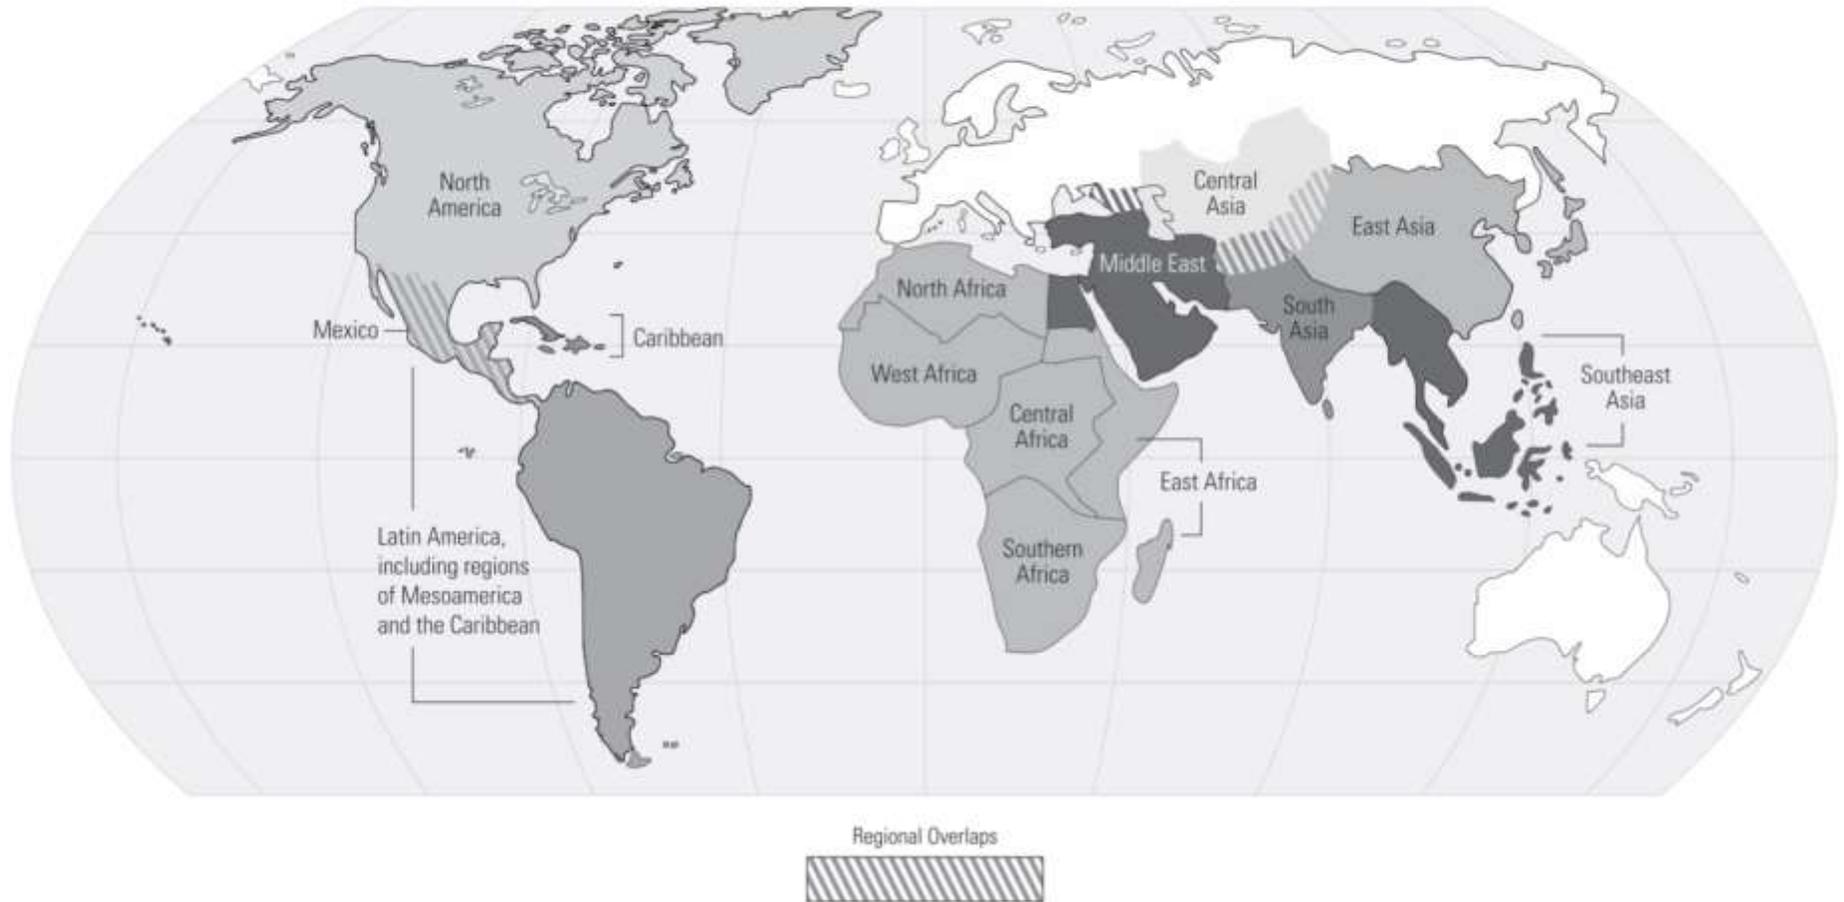

Students need basic geographical knowledge in order to understand world history. Geospatial awareness is also essential for students to build an understanding of the cross-cultural contacts, trade routes, migrations, etc., which are important concepts in the AP World History course.

The two maps that follow give students a starting point for identifying regions and their locations relative to other regions and landforms. These maps are a reference point for teachers and students alike. Because geographic naming conventions are not universal, these maps define regions and show the locations and commonly used names of regions that students are likely to encounter on the AP World History Exam.
