

"I think anytime you have students who are struggling in the classroom, the first thing we have to make sure is that their fundamental needs are being met.....and we know that kids aren't going to be available in class to learn and participate if they are not having all of their foundational needs met"

*-Gina Kismet, Principal
Maple Creek Elementary*

"Everyone plays a role in CSI...sometimes its just knowing enough about a student to have enough concern. You don't have to know how to fix that problem, you just have to know how to recognize it. Getting that information to our site coordinator, or a counselor is the next step. Even a parent or students can self-refer. It is really just paying attention to who we are as people, people's feelings and connecting. There's a lot of strength in supporting one another..."

*-Ricci Ulrich, Principal
Buchanan High School*

"Our school has been participating in CSI...as a result, we see kids improve and get better. They regain a focus on what's important in life, and on their achievements and academic goals."

*-Scott Dille, Principal
Clovis North Ed. Center*

"Kids don't care how much you know until they know how much you care". CSI groups demonstrate that care and compassion for us at Alta Sierra. The staff at Alta Sierra has embraced the CSI/SAP group concept and it is woven into the fabric of our daily life. Our students have demonstrated specific needs and CSI meets those needs. Creative solutions to life's challenges along with positive student and adult relationships are borne out of our CSI groups. CSI groups have made a positive difference in the lives of our students.

*-Steve Pagani, Principal
Alta Sierra Intermediate*
